EX-PAT NEW YORKER'S FOOD GUIDE

Pining for Katz's pastrami? Missing Di Palo's mozzarella? Nostalgic for Russ and Daughters' nova? Whatever your addiction, we'll tell you where to get your fix. Pretty soon, you'll be thinking that Westchester is just a far northern borough — reachable on the 6, with maybe a little walk at the end of the line.

CONNIE'S BAKERY 41 S. Moger Avenue,
Mount Kisco (914) 242-2014

Just like Magnolia, Connie's has all the gingham kitsch of a Betty Crocker cookbook, circa 1956 — it's just swell. But unlike Magnolia, whose profits line an increasingly argumentative set of owners' pockets, all of Connie's lucre goes to local charities. You can actually feel good about tucking into one of Connie's pastel-buttercream-loaded treats. And, as an added bonus, Connie's isn't mobbed with Sex and the City crazed tourists from Iowa.
